IAG Healthsciences Launches New Brand Image and Outlines Growth Initiatives;
New Look Reinforces Brand Revitalization

ANNOUNCEMENT

SINGAPORE., March 27, 2007 – IAG Healthsciences Pte Ltd (Reg No. 199408026Z) today announced an aggressive growth plan to expand its IAG Healthsciences' medical centers into over six markets in the next three years. Leveraging on its strength in Singapore, the initial focus will be to expand the brand into the key gateway cities in Indonesia, China, Middle East, and USA.

To reflect its commitment to the revitalized brand and outwardly portray its new energy, the company is announcing several significant changes. First, the company will change the name of all its clinic charters to IAG Healthsciences Medical Centers to clearly emphasize its focus on the IAG Healthsciences brand. At the same time, it is introducing a new logo and brand image. IAG Healthsciences' new clinic logo is easily recognizable and reinforces the strength and vitality that represent its clinics today.

Consistent with these changes, the company is changing its corporate image across Asia-Pacific from clinics under the "TCMS Healthcare" and "SATA TCM" to "IAG Healthsciences Medical Center."

The Chairman of IAG Healthsciences Pte Ltd, Dr. Goh Jin Hian, said "IAG Healthsciences has a rich history with patients throughout the Asia-Pacific to as far as the U.S. continent. Changing the name of our clinic charters under a consistent and common corporate umbrella and refreshing our corporate image are visible signs of our commitment to our patients and the community at large."

Shen Lee, Group Managing Director, said, "We have spent the last several years developing our systems and infrastructure to make our business scalable and efficient. We are seeing positive results from our investment in infrastructure and the investment we are making to upgrade our IAG Healthsciences Medical Centers. Our focus on the IAG Healthsciences brand showcases our singular direction for driving shareholder value."

Clinic Upgrade Program is on Track and Delivering Results

The company's successful rejuvenation of the IAG Healthsciences brand is a springboard for its expansion. Since acquiring the clinic at Orchard Road from TCMS Healthcare Ltd in November 2005, and acquiring the clinics at Jurong East and Woodlands respectively from the Singapore Anti-Tuberculosis Association (SATA) in December 2005, the company has focused its energy and attention on re-flagging these medical centers under a consistent and common corporate umbrella. Every aspect of IAG Healthsciences has been refined to accomplish a single goal -- provide patients consistently with the highest quality of care, for which IAG Healthsciences is known. Along with its new corporate image, IAG Healthsciences has elevated its product and service standards, and has introduced innovative marketing and franchising/licensing programs, state-of-the-art technology and comprehensive training tools.

Concurrent with its new brand image, the company is re-launching its website (<http://www.iag.com.sg>).
